Academic Status

Based on Stanford Achievement Test results, each school and school system is given an academic status:

- * Clear status indicates the school or system is meeting state academic requirements.
- * Caution means the school or system needs academic improvement.
- * Alert 1 or 2 requires the state Department of Education work with the system personnel to bring test scores up to standards.
- * Alert 3 indicates the state Department of Education is intervening in the daily operation of the school or system in an attempt to improve academic status.

The chart below shows this school system's academic status for the past 3 years.

Year	Status	% Improvement	Grade
1999-2000	CLEAR		N/A
1998-1999	CLEAR		N/A
1997-1998	CLEAR		N/A

Schools and school systems in Caution or Alert are attempting to improve test scores and reach Clear status. If this school is in Caution or Alert, the grade above indicates their progress.

Graduation Exam

Alabama has the toughest graduation requirements in the United States. High school students must earn at least 24 credits, including four years of math, science, English, and social studies. Students must also pass an exam to earn a regular diploma. This chart shows the percentage of 11th graders in this school system passing the exam.
